Energy Distribution Partners Welcomes Paula Laney

Chicago, Illinois-based Energy Distribution Partners (“EDP”) is pleased to announce that Paula Laney has joined the company as Director of Safety and Training.

Laney brings to her role more than 25 years of propane industry experience including more than 20 years in the area of safety training and education. She grew up in the propane industry, gaining experience early-on working with her parents in their family-owned propane operation, Liberty Propane in Cookson, Oklahoma.

For nearly 20 years, Laney served as the Director of Safety, Training and Education for the Oklahoma LP Gas Research, Marketing and Safety Commission, in addition to offering independent safety training and consulting workshops to various propane gas associations across the country. She also served as the propane industry representative on the Oklahoma Uniform Building Code Commission’s Alternative Fuels Technical Committee and the Fuel Gas, Mechanical, and Plumbing Technical Committee.

As a long-respected propane industry professional, Laney has served on the NPGA’s Education Training & Safety (ETS) Committee, which was active prior to the establishment of the Propane Education & Research Council (PERC). In recent years Laney has worked closely with PERC and other safety professionals to deliver essential safety and training materials to the industry.
