Energy Distribution Partners Named to Top Ten List of Propane Marketers

Energy Distribution Partners (“EDP”), based in Chicago, Illinois, has been named one of the propane industry’s Top Ten Propane Marketers by LP Gas Magazine. The fast-growing energy firm has moved up the ranks since first joining the list in 2014. LP Gas Magazine compiles its list annually based upon the volume of retail gallons sold in the prior year.

EDP made its first acquisition in 2012 when it acquired Linden’s Propane in LaGrange, Ohio. The company now has 27 operations with 42 outlets in 11 states from South Carolina in the Southeast to Washington in the Pacific Northwest, and now serves more than 160,000 customers.

Tom Knauff, President and CEO of Energy Distribution Partners, commented, “Since EDP’s founding in 2012, our focus on acquiring high-quality propane operations has propelled our growth. We are pleased to now be recognized by LP Gas as one of the country’s largest propane marketers.”

David Stroupe, Executive Vice President of Corporate Development added, “Although 2020 was a challenging year, we found ways to continue to execute on our expansion plans. In fact, in December we acquired our largest transaction to date, Stockton, California-based Campora Propane, which has 10 retail locations. As we’ve moved into 2021, we’re starting off on a positive note and actively working with other propane marketers as they contemplate their exit strategy.”
